Information about Exclusion Orders under the Community Safety Act

A number of questions have been raised by citizens about exclusion orders under the Community Safety Act (the “Act”). The Hāwīih Council provides the following information to give citizens a better understanding of exclusion orders and the matters that will be at issue in the hearings conducted under the Act.

When is an exclusion order issued?

Under section 3 of the Act, if the Executive Director knows that a person who lives or spends time on treaty lands, or who intends to, has been convicted of an excludable offence in the past 5 years, she must issue an exclusion order to that person. The Executive Director does not have any discretion in deciding whether to do so.

What is an excludable offence?

Excludable offences are set out in the Community Safety Regulation. These are criminal offences that Executive Council decided, with the input of the Hāwīih Council, are indicative of potential danger to the Huu-ay-aht community. A categorized list of these offences is attached.

What is the effect of an exclusion order?

A person who is the subject of an exclusion order is not allowed to enter Huu-ay-aht treaty lands. They may apply to the Executive Director for a temporary exemption from the order in urgent situations.

What is the role of the Hāwīih Council in relation to exclusion orders?

People who are subject to an exclusion order can apply to the Hāwīih Council for a determination that they do not pose an unreasonable risk to public safety. The Hāwīih Council will then conduct a hearing to make this determination. At the conclusion of the hearing, the Hāwīih Council may decide to keep the order in place, they may cancel the order, or they may allow the excluded person to enter on treaty lands under certain conditions. The list of factors that the Council will consider in reaching its determination is set out on the following page.

Factors to be considered by the Hāwiih Council

Under section 11 of the Act, in making a determination with respect to whether an excluded person poses an unreasonable risk to public safety, the Hāwiih Council must consider:

- a) the time that has elapsed since the actions giving rise to the conviction and the excluded person's behaviour during that time;
- b) the role of substance use in the offence and the excluded person's current status with respect to substance use, including participation in any treatment program;
- c) the excluded person's ties to the Huu-ay-aht community;
- d) the potential impacts of the exclusion order on the excluded person, impacted individuals, and the Huu-ay-aht community;
- e) the nexus between the offence and the potential risk posed by the person to people on Treaty Lands and to the Huu-ay-aht community;
- f) any proposed mitigation plan;
- g) participation of the individual in a restorative program;
- h) any supports put in place by the excluded person's Huu-ay-aht Maht Mahs;
- i) whether the excluded person has a criminal history beyond the commission of the prescribed offence giving rise to the exclusion order;
- j) whether the excluded person has a history of non-compliance with court orders;
- k) any expressions of remorse or attempts to make restitution undertaken by the person; and
- l) any other factors it considers relevant.
