Angela Wesley (Shii-shii-kʷalahp) is a Huu-ay-aht citizen and a member of the House of Ahp-wini-saht. She is proudly guided by the mentorship and teachings of her mother in particular - Huu-ay-aht elder Marjorie White (Nana-himyis), along with some of the most brilliant First Nations leaders in Huu-ay-aht, Nuu-chah-nulth and throughout British Columbia.

Angela has dedicated her personal and professional life to answering the call of our ancestors to continue to work towards our vision of governing ourselves once again based on who we are and where we come from.

Project Team: Project Director

Karen Haugen is the Executive Director for Huu-ay-aht First Nations. She took on this role in May 2023 and has been supporting a team to accomplish the goal of unleashing Huu-ay-aht territory to bring economic wealth to the Nation and to support Huu-ay-aht Citizens.

With her team, HFN has been successful in completing the Bamfield Road chip seal project. The ?um?iisqsu Centre was another major capital initiative, a centre for Indigenous women fleeing abusive situations to come and regain their wellness while staying with their children.

Project Team: Project Lead

My name is Heather Castleden (she/her), which is the name given to a flowering evergreen plant that thrives on the pretty barren lands of Scotland and England where my ancestors are from. My father is Don Castleden and late Jaye Castleden (nee Jarrett). I was born in the territory of the Yellowknives Dene. I now live in Coast Salish territories. I am married to Jay, a third generation Ukrainian and we have two adult children, Dylan and Jordan.

In 2005, Huu-ay-aht First Nations welcomed me into community as a graduate student; we collaboratively documented the sacred relationships between cedar, salmon, and the people. Our research relationship has continued for 20 years around Treaty implementation!

I am now a Full Professor at the University of Victoria. It is an honour and privilege to be asked to be the Project Lead for the Tribunal Project.

Project Team: Project Coordinator

My name is Jeremy Perkins (he/him). I am of settler ancestry working to decolonize myself and it has been my goal to be able to work in solidarity with Indigenous peoples and am grateful to be working for Huu ay aht on this project.

I was raised in the territory of the Cowichan Tribes and have lived on what is now known as Vancouver Island my whole life. I graduated from Vancouver Island University in 2023 with a Bachelor of Arts in Global Studies and Politics and am currently pursuing a Masters in Public Administration at the University of Victoria. For my masters thesis, I also have the privilege of working with Huu ay aht on research regarding the upcoming treaty review.

I have experience working for the Office of the BC Ombudsperson on matters of administrative fairness in the BC public service. I have also worked for Environment and Climate Change Canada, and a Climate non-profit in Sydney, Australia.
